What Happens Next?

The joining fee includes a copy of the police driver's handbook Roadcraft for car members or Motorcycle Roadcraft for motorcycle members. It also covers the cost of administration, hiring venues and organising presentations and social events.

- On receipt of the application and payment you will be forwarded a receipt and membership card.
- Within four weeks you should receive a telephone call or e-mail from your allocated tutor who will arrange to meet you at a mutually convenient location to begin your preparation. Please note that there are times when demand for tuition is high and there may be longer delays.
- If you are a car driver the tutor will accompany you in your own vehicle. If you are a motorcyclist the tutor will follow you on their motorcycle.
- All tutors give their time free of charge but motorcyclists are asked to donate £10 per session to help with petrol and maintenance costs.
- To make good progress you will have to commit to attending sessions at regular intervals and practise techniques yourself in between sessions.
- The teaching is based on Roadcraft, the police driver's handbook, or Motorcycle Roadcraft, the police rider's handbook. Your tutor will guide you through the Roadcraft System and prepare you for the advanced test. Generally, you will receive around 8 sessions with your tutor.
- When you and your tutor feel you are ready for a test, you apply directly with RoSPA HQ using their online form RoSPA Advanced Test Application. The cost is currently £77 for a car test and £85 for a Motorcycle Test and once booked an examiner will usually contact you within two weeks to make arrangements for the test.
- Your test application includes membership with the national organisation for a year from your test and is separate from the group membership. Further membership of the national group is currently £40 per year which includes the cost of an advanced re-test every three years. Regular retests and attending group meetings help to maintain the quality and high standards of the member's Driving or Riding ability and therefore enhance Road Safety.
